MILLER & LUX ASK MANDATE

Another Step Taken In Water Fight

The big fight of the Miller & Lux estate against the inclusion of its lands in the Madera irrigation district developed another step yesterday when attorneys for the Miller & Lux interests filed a petition for a writ of mandate directed against the directors of the irrigation district. The petition was filed in superior court under the title of Miller & Lux, Incorporated, against J. W. Schmitz, N. E. Sanders, W. H. Benson, J. B. High, and J. L. Davis, directors of the Madera irrigation district. The petition, which was filed by Edward F. Treanor, of San Francisco, as attorney for the corporation, sets out the efforts of Miller & Lux to have its property excluded from the irrigation district. On March 31, 1921, the corporation petitioned the directors of the Madera district and a hearing was held on June 3, when the petition was denied. The Madera irrigation district, a short time ago voted a bond issue of $28,000,000 for irrigation purposes.

Oil Light Beats Electric or Gas BURNS 94% AIR

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tried by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94% air and 6% common kerosene (coal oil).
The inventor, Z. W. Johnson, 31 N. Fifth St., Portland, Ore., is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' trial or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.

FRESNO'S UNEMPLOYED

Fresno has been flattered in a state report as having comparatively few unemployed. This is a pleasant condition in a season that has shown and will doubtless show yet, too much suffering from unemployment.

But even this small number of men unemployed is too many.

In our discussions of the relation of labor to society, we take alternating points of view. At one moment we take opportunity to labor as a blessing. At another, we assume that the necessity to labor is a curse. The extreme radical talks of "wage slaves." The socialist speaks of the chance to work as a right. The labor unionist considers it a privilege which must not be denied, but which can and should be bargained over to increase its value.

We know that in fact labor is both an opportunity and a necessity. But we cannot have it solely the one or the other. Labor must be a necessity of too great a proportion of the population will cease to labor, and the burden of existence will be too heavy on parts of the population. And labor must be an opportunity, or we will crush out of life all the initiative that makes it varied and fruitful.

We could, possibly, so adjust the labor market that labor would be a necessity for all. But then it would cease to be an opportunity. We would be wage slaves. And none of us want to be wage slaves. We wish some slack in our lives. We want some uncertainty. We want a chance to loaf occasionally, or even freely. But if life is so arranged that all may have a chance to loaf, then surely some will take advantage of it and be loafers.

And if we arrange matters so that people shall have opportunity to display initiative, then some will take undue advantage of this opportunity, and by guile unduly increase their share of the fruits of opportunity.

If we let both necessity and opportunity play a part in the labor opportunities, we are certain to have periods of depression—times when men who wish to work can't. Just as we will always possibly in our scheme of things have men who ought to work that won't.

But this margin of workless men and menless work should be reduced to a minimum. Every effort of society should be directed to reducing this limit.

We have done comparatively few things that we should ultimately be able to do, to reduce this limit.

We have not distributed the work of our industries properly throughout the year, so that the man who expects to be a wage-earner in June shall also be a wage-earner in December. Nor have we arranged any system of wage insurance by which the man who is certain to work in June and certain not to work in December, will have the means for living through the year.

And we have not taken any steps to provide that the man who depends upon the labor market for work, shall have work in off years as well as good years.

We view these failures with no great pessimism. These defects of our system will be corrected. And we are fairly sure that they will be supplied in logical ways, not in the illogical, communist way of assuring to every man in the system a chance to eat out of a common fund, with an attempt to make him work for a common fund. The world is not convinced of the possibilities of communism. We are fairly well convinced that it is hopeless.

But there are other ways of bringing about the same result. We can manipulate our business so that work will be more freely distributed. We can also assure a freer choice of work, that each in the joy of the working, will do better work. And above all, we can provide that society as such shall be able to take care of the slack times that society is responsible for, without having to take care of men who don't want to work under any circumstances, or who so work that their employment is unremunerative to society.

The poor we may always have with us. But the number of poor can be made much smaller than it is now.

FITTING NAMES

The suggestion has been made that we have a commission to supply picturesque, attractive or appropriate names for new places in California as occasion for them may arise.

The impulse is a pleasing one. For names in California do form an element in our public life. The most of our names are Spanish. A smaller proportion are Indian. Together these supply a romantic touch to our daily associations that is invaluable. They give a spice to conversation, to the vocable mechanics of thought.

That naming is often artificial, especially in America, needs no greater proof than a reference to a map. One can notice various influences in naming applied as with a paint brush to portions of our country. One of the most conspicuous is the classical tendency. The Romes and the Troys and the Athens and the Syracuses of ancient learning are as frequent as the Rochesters and the Yorks and the Mountmouths of our English language lineage. Then, especially in the Mid West, where men laid out our states with a foot rule; named counties by the score and the towns by graded intervals on new railway lines, the names of early American statesmen, like Jefferson and Calhoun and Madison and Jackson, are given unending repetition.

Yet, any attempt to dictate name systems, no matter how discretely undertaken, would run into the blockade of personal inclination. For, on the whole, names grow, rather than being made. It is an accident of California history that such an old city as "Stockton" has such a commonplace name, and such a young city as "Fresno" has such a romantic name. It is an accident that "Shelbyville" is merely an historical anecdote and that "Los Angeles" is a world factor. It is lucky for California that the Yosemite is the "Yosemite" and not "Smith's Falls" or "Brown's canyon."

Even in its endless variety the nomenclature of California has a beauty, rather than such a sameness as might have been given if there had been a plan to the naming. We have a fair proportion of Spanish saints' names; it is a question whether we would want any more of them. And fortunately we have escaped in our newer youth, such atrocities as "Hangtown."

We have had on California maps three places designated as "Fresno," of which the one from which this paper is issued is the only one that has obtained. This is an accident. It is questionable whether any organized determination of citizens, whether any enactment of law or of a state commission, could have kept Fresno from being "Fresno," or have made it "Fresno," if the whole complication of influences that make or break cities had joined forces against it.

On the whole, the impulses of our map makers have been idealistic, rather than commonplace. A company laying out a town seeks euphony and even an appeal to the artistic sense of possible patrons. They do not resort to "Jonesville" or that ilk, nearly so much as they do to names with a resounding termination. And where the opposite is true, where a man who is opening up a townsite decides to give him his own name to it, it is questionable whether any outside influence could overcome the vanity of his choice.

We ought to be very jealous of the dignity of our place names. We have been fairly successful in crushing out the tendency to "Frisco." No cheap ideas of economy of utterance or of the printed space should permit such an insult to a city. We are still too tolerant of "Los." And we occasionally hear "Sac."

The best schooling for names lies in our habit of using euphony names. We have them in a daily example. They give us an ever renewed training in the usefulness of slightly and fitting names. Let us make the best of them.

It might be a very proper thing, though, to have a working agreement with such an organization as the State Historical Survey Commission and the postoffice department, to make kindly and courteous suggestions to persons proposing new names for places. The postoffice hears of such places sooner than any other institution. And it could be a power for good in the betterment of names.

CARPE DIEM

Cornelius Cole, who was 99 years of age yesterday, and celebrated the fact with a number of friends, has looked over life for enough years to be interested in it solely as a continuing experience. "I am ambitious," he says. "Guess I shall keep on growing old as long as I can."

Mr. Cole's calmness of vision would be a boon for many a younger man today. For he understands, what so many do not, that the spending of years is a business, that can be handled just as well at 99 as at 66 or 33.

For we have so developed our life that there is no age except the age of infirmity, which can begin at any time in life. There is nothing set off any more from existence except extreme youth, and this is fast disappearing. The business of life is continuous. It is the same at 80 or 60 or 30. The fact is probably that death, in a social sense, has been just as near to Cornelius Cole for forty years as it has been for the last ten years. The certainty of death does not worry him now. It did not worry him a year ago. It did not worry him ten years ago. It may have oppressed him thirty years ago. If it did, that depression, as he looks back on it now, was of no moment.

The only importance of age, in any case, comes from purely physical limitations. And those physical growths and decays are so slightly attendant upon the years, that for practical purposes, they can be ignored.

Provided only that a man or a woman be equipped with common sense, then, there is no such thing as "yesterday" or "tomorrow." The physical business of living becomes a routine, almost to be ignored. Provided we have food enough, food becomes a negligible quantity in life. Provided we have clothes enough, we can be indifferent to clothes. Provided that the physical man is well managed by an intelligently functioning brain, the physical being is made the foundation for a life that in its fullness can be filled with usefulness and enjoyment alike, from 30 to 90 indifferently.

So, we believe that it is no mere pose when a man of 99 says that he is looking forward to long life and a happy one. He may die tomorrow. But then, at 66 he might have died "tomorrow." Each day now brings with it its blessing of thought and of useful service. We can truthfully write anew the "Carpe diem" of Horace. Let us eat and drink, let us work and think and serve, indeed, for in some tomorrow we will surely die.

GREENLANDERS GET FIRST VIEW OF KING CHRISTIAN OF DENMARK

King Christian of Denmark reviewing school children at Good Hope, Greenland. Natives of Greenland recently saw their ruler, King Christian of Denmark, for the first time. The royal family stopped there on its tour of the Danish possessions. Greenlanders turned out in gala costumes to greet the monarch, who is popular in all parts of his kingdom, judging by his reception. The royal party visited many parts of the island, inspecting the homes of the natives and admiring the beautiful needlework of the Greenlanders' housewives.

FROM HALIFAX TO VANCOUVER IN TINY BOAT IS THEIR AMBITION

The 15-foot boat and its crew, J. H. Engle, J. H. Morrison and Arthur Spragg. From Halifax, Nova Scotia, to Vancouver, British Columbia, via the Panama canal, in a 15-foot open boat with small jib and sail and four oars is a novel trip being taken by three vets of the Canadian expeditionary forces who saw service in France during the war. They are J. H. Engle and J. H. Morrison, aged twenty-five, of Halifax, and Arthur Spragg of St. John, New Brunswick. One month out, they reached their first American port Sept. 5 at the far east frontier of Eastport, Me. They do not carry firearms, even a fishing line is lacking, and only a limited amount of baggage for the trip, expecting to finish it in two years and cover 50,000 miles. Keeping close to the coast they go ashore daily for meals and sleep. Their craft is called the "Vet."

Peggy May Take Fourth Husband

Peggy Joyce, snapped on the sands at Atlantic City recently. Current reports from France indicate that Peggy Hopkins Joyce is ready to enter into matrimony once more. This time the millionaire of course it is always a millionaire, is P. C. Merrill of France.

The "Outlook" has seldom presented to its readers a better issue than that of August 21st, with Sherman Hooper's paper on "Employee Representation." It measures up to the level of an Atlantic Monthly article. Hermann Hagedorn's account of "The Pogrom at Plymouth" is also noteworthy. Children of families where "The Outlook" is a weekly visitor can be depended upon to grow into buyers and readers of worthwhile books.

"The Crisis" for September, tells us about the new Bishop of Liberia, who was consecrated in New York. He is the Rev. D. T. Nnamdi Gardiner, was a Mohammedan Negro of the Yoruba tribe, in West Africa; he studied at a mission school in Africa; he speaks and writes English, Latin and Greek, and knows many native dialects. His ability and honesty with which this magazine devoted to the development of the Negro race is concerned, give its editorials special weight in racial questions.

WHEN JUDGE LANDIS MADE BASIS FOR SETTLING BUILDING DISPUTES

Federal Judge K. M. Landis on bench, reading his decision to court room crowded with employers and labor officials.

The recent award of Federal Judge K. M. Landis of Chicago in the Chicago building trades dispute is expected to be accepted as a basis for the settlement of similar disputes in many other labor centers in the country. Landis' decision followed discussions before the judge by builders, contractors and labor officials. Some of the main points in his award were the reduction of wages from 10 to 35 per cent, the use of union and non-union building materials by union men, the prohibition of strikes and lockouts, and prevention of discrimination against any employees not included in any agreements.

LONDON, Sept. 15.—Modern ministers are blamed as being "salesmen" instead of "Christian apostles" and that is one reason why the people are drifting away from the church, toward religion, declared the Rev. Dr. J. S. Todd Thomas of Chicago, in an address here today to the Evangelical Alliance.

The speaker said he saw "a real peril in the effort of denominational leaders to force the ministers into a narrow groove. The scheme whereby direct gain is to produce the largest immediate revenue."

"Poorly attended churches all over the land are the result of the people's indifference toward institutional religion," said Dr. Thomas. "All churches are the exception rather than the rule. The church is a thing which starts us in the faith and, more eloquently than words speak of the attitude of that force which is the human factor in religion."

"Religion is something so necessary in their lives,"

"They are pleasure mad; they have a material standard of success," which their belief in the modern church as the representative of God and the Ambassador of Christ does not express," he said.

Dr. Todd Thomas further indicated, "is how to vitalize the church so that she may authoritatively and convincingly persuade men of the necessity of belief and the mission of sacrificial service." Asserting that "the average artisan lacks confidence in the church as a champion of the faith," he continued:

"This indifference has arisen from a misconception of God—a wrong teaching of God's character and a wrong teaching of the Christian life. In many of the critical hours of history the church has failed to impress the people with the reality of God's presence, which would bring light into the dark hours on the subject of war, the relations of capital and labor, and other things that have been baffling the minds of men."

"Prophecy and priests," Dr. Thomas said, "must challenge the people with the reality of God's presence, confidence in the church, trust in Christ and service to the world. The church must not forget the ancient lesson that God must also command that Christianity is a religion of the individual."

MRS. CARL STEDMAN WHEELER
Riches have come to another
Broadway star. Friends of Virginia

Follies" company; have learned from her that she was married in Boston a few days ago.

Her husband is Carl Stedman wealthy Boston business man. His age is the same as the bride's, 21.

They are now making their home at the magnificent Wheeler estate,
"Fairlawn," in East Lexington.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 15.—The recent unanimous decision of the Board of Supervisors of San Francisco to keep Bush street from becoming a residential district is the second dwelling class, instead of permitting it to become a commercial zone, was taken after several weeks of discussion. It is asserted that Japanese would control the district if allowed to increase the number of their small stores.

The city planning finance just approved by the supervisors creates six districts. They are:

- 1—Single family dwellings.
- 2—Single family apartments.
- 3—Commercial, stores and office buildings.
- 4—Light industrial, laundries, factories and manufacturing concerns.
- 5—Heavy industrial.
- 6—Unrestricted.

The city planning commission reported that a survey having taken place in the city showed that 54 per cent of the 79,000 buildings in San Francisco are one-family dwellings, and that 26 per cent of the total number of buildings are flats, apartment houses and hotels.

SQUIRREL ISLAND, MICH., Sept. 15.—Fifty years ago twenty men brought to this island the first of the "city life" in the last month of the year, formed a community and gave it religion and a local government.

Now their children are celebrating the golden jubilee of the establishment of the first sundry colony idea. They declare that while summer homes had dotted the coast of Maine before 1871, it was the success of the Squirrel Island Community that led to the founding of the other colonies all the way from Maine to Colorado.

Founded for freedom and fun modified by church and village regulation, the Squirrel Island Association was from the first on a basis of co-operation. The year 1921 was proclaimed a compact described as being "an abedient to Divine guidance as that of the Mayflower Pilgrims."

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 15.—Colonization of reclaimed lands will be the principal subject of discussion at the tenth annual convention of the National Drainage Congress to be held here Sept. 22-24.

Many landowners, farmers, drainage contractors, engineers and others interested in the development of fertile lowlands, will attend. The program will include a report of railroad colonization commissioners and a report on methods of colonization in various regions of Wisconsin will precede discussions of colonization of reclaimed lands with reference to rural credits, financing of drainage projects, state drainage legislation and the relative efficiency of electricity, steam and oil in drainage pumping.

Representatives of the governor of Chicago reports that the governors of South Carolina, Tennessee, Louisiana, Iowa, Minnesota, Michigan and Missouri have named their respective commissioners.

Gov. Nelson will appoint Governor J. A. O. Freus of Minnesota, Dr. F. A. Newell of Washington, Dr. C. F. Hornum head of the federal reclamation service, H. B. Hovey of Illinois, H. H. Hovey of Minnesota and F. W. DeWolf, chief of the Illinois Geological Survey Division.

Was In Penitentiary
Twice Before

LEAVIN' BURLING, Kinn, Sept. 14. The man being held in the Platte county jail for attempted robbery of a Chicago, Burlington & Quincy train at Coffeyville, Mo., last Saturday night, was identified today as J. G. Bond, arrested in Richmond, Calif., February 3, 1918, on a charge of burglary, and sentenced to prison for five years.

Bond, who had given the name of Harry A. Burion when arrested last week, was identified by the sheriff by the California superior court, according to A. J. Ranee, of the bureau of identification at the Federal penitentiary at San Francisco, the second time in Martinez, Cal., February 9, 1918, charged with embezzlement but was never brought to trial.

Bond boarded a Burlington enroute to Kansas City last Saturday. As the train neared Pariville, he held up the train crew, and passengers, and forced the brakemen, at the point of a revolver, to search the passengers. The conductor succeeded in backing the train back to Pariville, where the would-be bandit followed.

200 Cars of Raisins

VALUE $3,000,000 SHIPPED
FROM FRESNO IN ONE DAY

SHARE IN THE PROFITS OF FRESNO'S GREATEST INDUSTRY

Our Plan Makes It Easy

What has made Fresno? Not gold, nor oil, nor manufacturing; Fresno's wealth comes from a more lasting source—the riches of an amazingly fertile soil, a never failing water supply, ideal location and sunny climate. Raisins, Peaches, Figs, and other luscious fruits for which the world will exchange its gold, have made Fresno the most prosperous community in the country, but the greatest of these is the raisin. Raisins have been the money maker—immense fortunes have been and are being made by raisin growers.

But the fame of this rich land and the prestige of the Raisin have boosted the demand and the price until now only a person of large means can go into the fruit raising business. However, big capital is developing raisin land on a large scale, especially in the Poplar District, which has proven to have ideal soil and climatic conditions for the development of Thompson Seedless grapes.

But Here's a New Co-operative Plan

For Small or Large Investors

Mr. L. J. Mathisen is the owner of 560 acres in the Poplar district, where the attention of fruit men is being drawn by its remarkably heavy yields of grapes. Mr. Mathisen has not the capital to develop this rich land himself, and has evolved the following unique plan:

A company composed of 100 units is being formed to develop the land. Each unit holder will pay in $1860, which will be used solely for turning this tract into a full-bearing Thompson Seedless Vineyard. The $1860 is payable $600 before January, 1922, and $30 per month until the full amount has been paid. Vines will be planted in 1922, and the vineyard will be in full bearing the fourth year. Under our co-operative plan all crops will be divided equally with each unit, and, figuring the price of raisins at only 6c per pound, which is a great deal lower than the present price, the returns for the third and fourth years are estimated as follows:

Third year production 2 tons raisins to the acre, at 6c per lb.	$134,400
Fourth year production 3 tons to the acre, at 6c per lb.	201,600
Total estimated return for 3rd and 4th years	$336,000

Each Unit Earns a Good Income

The monthly payments of unit holders will of course take care of the development cost, so it is estimated that at the end of the fourth year each unit will have earned, clear, $2,360, or almost twice the amount paid for development. Then, when each unit is earning an estimated income of $2,360 per year, the unit holders will commence to pay Mr. Mathisen for the land at the rate of only $100 per year for each unit.

Others Are Making Greater Profits

These figures are based on an estimate of only two tons to the acre the third year, three tons to the acre the fourth year, and on a price of only 6c per lb. for Thompson Seedless Raisins. You know what raisins are selling for now, and others in the Poplar District get much heavier yields than our estimates. Mr. A. E. Imbler of Delano, whose vineyard is only a short distance from Mr. Mathisen's land, raised 4.52 tons to the acre the third year and 4.53 tons to the acre the fourth year. (See Associated Grower for last June.) Is it any wonder then that Wylie M. Giffen is developing hundreds of acres in the Poplar District; that L. B. Rogers is planting a 1200-acre vineyard; that Wells Vineyard Co. has purchased several sections and that Benton, the Boult and other financial leaders are operating in the Poplar District? No it is not surprising. Capital goes where the most money is to be made and the Poplar District is the richest vineyard land in the Valley.

The Valley Bank Will Handle the Money

The terms of an agreement with The Valley Bank, which agreement is open to inspection by all investors, provide that all money paid by unit holders shall be made payable to The Valley Bank. The title to the land is now in escrow with The Valley Bank.

You Pay For The Development

The Land Pays for Itself

That is exactly what it amounts to. The money you pay in easy installments is used only for development. When the vineyard is in full bearing, has more than paid you back the development cost, and is paying a handsome profit every year, then you begin paying for the land at the rate of only $100 per year for each unit.

Stated without flattery, here is the proposition:

You pay $1860 for development of the land—$600 before January 1st, 1922, balance $30 per month, which will pay out in four years. At the end of the third year the property produces an estimated crop of $134,400, at the end of the fourth year an estimated crop of $201,600, a total of $336,000 for the two years, or a share of $3360 for each unit. So you get back the $1860 spent by each unit for development, and, after other expenses have been paid, get about $1500 more on top of that! Thereafter, year after year, your investment ($1860) should pay you about $2500.

The Opportunity Is Open to You— Grasp It!

These profits are not overdrawn—others are making still greater profits by development of raisin land. It is the proposition that is remarkable, in that it gives the investor a chance to become a raisin grower by paying only the development cost. The plan is unique, and it offers you an opportunity to share in the profits from the San Joaquin Valley's greatest industry.

Will you grasp that opportunity?

Only 100 units will be sold, and your chance to share in this development depends on your immediate action. Telephone 1478 now, or mail the coupon today.

EXETER WINS PRIZE AT FAIR

EXETER, Sept. 15.—The Exeter booth at the Fresno Fair, and Agricultural Show, attracted a great deal of attention during the last week. Nothing but favorable comments were heard on all sides and the judges were congratulated on their decision in awarding the first prize for the best general display put on by any Chamber of Commerce.

UNION SCHOOL OPENS MONDAY

Oakdale Expects Large Enrollment

OAKDALE, Sept. 15.—The Oakdale Union school will be opened Monday, plans to open it last Monday having failed, because of the failure to complete the necessary arrangements. In spite of the additional two rooms, the school will be almost as crowded as ever, as the extra rooms will relieve only the congestion in the upper grades.

The kindergarten class will use the same room as last year, in the Oakdale Investment Co. building, and some of the lower grades will use the old Methodist church as last year.

The overflow is quite a problem, as the children object to attending school in the old church because the building has less light than the school house proper, and also because they are out of play with the remainder of the youngsters at recess time.

J. J. Berry, district superintendent, announced today the appointments of teachers for the term, and their classifications. Miss Grace Cramer will be vice principal, and teach writing and English. S. W. McMillan will have charge of the arithmetic and manual training classes. Miss Janet Bishop will teach English, Miss Clara H. Hoyer, arithmetic and drawing; Miss Mabel Howe, history; Miss Grace Hubbard, geography; Miss Mary Russell, home economics and music.

Assignments to the primary grades follow: Miss Fern Schumpeier, fifth grade; Miss Vida Rohan, fourth grade; Miss Florence Horning, third grade; Miss Harriet McMillan, second grade; Miss Ruth Handenbury and Mrs. Eva Jones, first grade; Miss Frances Turner, third, fourth and fifth grade girls.

Miss Anna Murray will teach the Russian school; Miss Ruth Turner, Orange Blossom, and Miss Loretta Bourne will teach the kindergarten again this year.

Coalinga Men Fined On Gambling Charges

COALINGA, Sept. 15.—N. G. Jones, Rudolph Young and D. D. Cleot appeared yesterday before Recorder Minville and pleaded guilty to a charge of gambling. Rogers, at whose place the game was in progress at the time the arrests were made, was fined $10 and given a suspended sentence of 30 days. Rogers was also fined $25 and given a 90-day suspended sentence with the understanding that he leave town today. Young and Cleot were fined $25 and given suspended sentences of 30 days each.

SANGER HIGH OPENS MONDAY

Expect 300 to Attend This Year

SANGER, Sept. 15.—Regular work for the school year that will start at 8:30 a. m. on Monday, Sept. 19, at 8 o'clock. The principal has been in the office at the school building every morning this week from 8 to 10 a. m. and has been giving out such changes as those previously mentioned. The registration, so far, has been very gratifying, the enrollment bids fair to reach the three hundred mark.

The courses of study will be up to the high standard already set and many of them will be improved. The mathematics department has been given more attention than ever. The building used last year for this study is being enlarged to 6000 ft. making it possible for the entire work of this department to be carried on in the one building. Work will be given in manual training, auto mechanics and force work.

The commercial department has been improved by the addition of more equipment and the music department by the addition of new musical instruments.

Old faculty back of last year's faculty will be back with the exception of Miss B. C. Thompson and Miss Irene Taylor. Three new teachers will be on the staff, making the total number one more than last year. The new teachers are: Miss Alice, who will teach P. E. and Health; Miss Finkert, teaching history and English; and Miss Hill who will teach home economics. There are, previously, from Stanford University, University of Redlands and Santa Barbara and Fresno Normal.

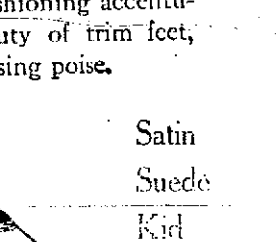

In the arrangements for transportation of the pupils from the outlying districts, a number of buses have been purchased and will be driven to the school by the faculty. A garage is in course of construction for the housing of the transportation equipment. The bus routes will be published later.

Cost of Fighting
Forest Fires Higher
TERRA BELLA, Sept. 17.—P. L. Cunningham, supervisor of the Sequoia national forest, who was in Fresno 10 days Wednesday, reported that while there had been many less fires this season than last in the forest, suppression costs this year far exceeded the costs of last year. Fires in the forest last year totaled 57, and so far this season there have been only 47 fires. The suppression cost, however, has totaled $14,000 this season, as compared with $400 for all of last season. The fires this year have been much more serious, covering larger areas, and necessitating large crews of fighters. After October 15, the headquarters of the Sequoia forest will be moved from Hot Springs to Porterville. Cunningham reported that work has been started on a wagon road between Pine Flat and Jack ranch, a distance of seven and one-half miles, with not over a seven per cent grade. Twenty men are employed. It will not be possible to complete the road this season.

REDUCE WAGES OF COTTON MEN

$1.50 Per Day Paid
Unskilled Labor

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 17.—Conditions of unemployment for unskilled labor, whether of the white, colored or yellow races, in the cotton growing districts of the Salt River Valley and Yuma District of Arizona, and the Imperial and Colorado valleys of southern California, were found to be deplorable by W. H. Camp, cotton specialist for the federal government, who has returned to Bakersfield after completing an inspection trip of three weeks in these sections. Wages of $1.50 a day, board and self, work to hours a day, and obedience to the cotton plant manager, and a long "follow" (the "gator," such a leader being a hand-picked, energetic, durable fellow, are the maximum being paid cotton plantation pickers and other unskilled workers in the four districts visited by Camp, he declared. Indeed, the $1.50 a day is not an agreed wage, but can be made by the worker who picks ten pounds of clean cotton in 10 hours of the previous, proper putout of one and one-half cents. Last year the price paid per pound to pickers was a 1-1/2 to 4 cents. Cotton planters in the four districts are valued at $100,000,000, and more than 75 cents a 100 pounds to pickers of the short staple cotton. Camp was informed.

MR. GROWER,
Dear Sir:

We want to buy Thompsons, Sultan, and Muscat Raisins.

We are inclined, moreover, to believe the grower wants to sell.

If this state of mind exists on our respective parts, it remains a matter of price to make a trade.

We are willing to meet any fair competition as to price, and will pay spot cash for all the raisins that we buy. Call, or phone us and we will come out and see you.

Yours very truly,

INSPECT FRUIT BEING SHIPPED

Standardization Will Be Put in Operation

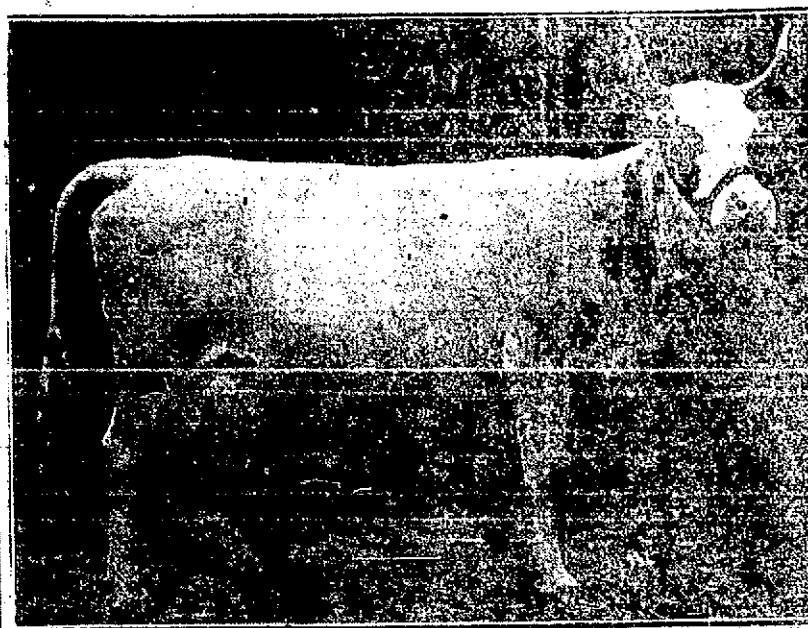

Properly to inaugurate the shipping point inspection service of 1921 in San Joaquin county, P. W. Reed, in charge of the standardization service of the state department of agriculture, yesterday requested Harold L. Pomery, horticultural commissioner of Kern county, to send one of his deputies to Los Angeles to confer with the inspector of the office in the work. Pomery to the request, Deputy Z. V. Hoskins was detailed by Pomery, and left for Los Angeles yesterday.

The shipping point inspection service, according to Pomery, rapidly is becoming popular among growers and shippers, and large numbers of them in Kern and other counties are availing themselves of its advantages and benefits. In Kern county this season 115 carloads of potatoes and 20 carloads of grapes have been inspected by Pomery and staff.

One of the excellent features of the service is the furnishing to every shipper, wishing to share in its protection, a "food products inspection certificate." This certificate shows the following facts, and is received, according to Pomery, as prima facie evidence in California courts:

The consignor and his address; the shipper and his address; car in this, its number and class, condition of car and its equipment, including vents, plugs, etc.; description of products inspected and their distinguished marks; date of inspection; date and conditions of condition of pack, showing whether bags or boxes are well filled, filled and labeled; describes shape of fruit or vegetable; pronounces on quality and condition, showing the quality and condition of the shipment; freedom from defects and disease; and to its uniform degree of ripeness; and an intelligent and identifying decision on the value and grade of fruit or vegetable on the consignment.

PLAN TO ADD DAIRY SECTION

Stanislaus Farm Bureau Now Taking Steps

Plans for a dairy department of the Stanislaus Farm Bureau will probably materialize, C. E. Fisher, Stanislaus Farm Bureau agent, yesterday afternoon. The department is being organized by a committee to draw up plans for such a department at a meeting of the board of directors of the Stanislaus county farm bureau yesterday afternoon. The department will, according to present plans, introduce, according to present plans, a new cow testing association.

It is believed by some of the dairymen that the type of cow testing association which is now in force is not organized on the proper basis to produce the best results. The new association which the dairy department is now in operation in Stanislaus county will be intensive association as are now in operation in San Joaquin, Sacramento, Colusa and Kings counties. About 600 cows are included in one association.

The dairymen and tester are on a yearly basis.

There are about 55,000 dairy cows in Stanislaus county, and it is hoped to ultimately organize about a dozen of these associations in this county.

County agent A. A. Jumperman, assistant county agent Smith and secretary, Manager W. J. Norton of the Farm Bureau, will take an active interest in the work.

More Vessels Needed For Coffee Shippers

SAN JUAN, P. R., Sept. 17.—The Insular Chamber of Commerce has endorsed the efforts of Governor Bailey in trying to obtain another line of steamers to San Juan.

Governor Bailey has taken up with the shipping board at Washington the question of having shipping board vessels operated by the War Dept. out of New Orleans stop at some island port en route to and from Spain in order to provide more frequent means of making coffee shipments.

Porto Rico has very additional service would not only be of great assistance to the coffee shippers, but would also provide further facilities for other freight shipments to and from the island, Cuba, Spain and the Gulf of Mexico.

Unique Club Is Again To Organize

PALMS, Sept. 16.—"Hundred Club" club, composed of men tipping the scales at 220 pounds, is coming to life again. At the first meeting after the war the club showed many members "lived on the field of honor" but the greatest hurdle on the eligible fat men of the city was the hard work of military service. Many of the old timers who were safely over the weight limit trained down under the rationing system.

They have now gone into training at the little club where the club convenes, eating fattening foods and not meeting the limit.

TULARE SOON TO HAVE NEW MODERN HOTEL

Work is Started on Four Story Structure in That City

Will Be Modern and Be Great Accommodation To Tourists

By ROBERT H. NICOL.

Soon the city of Tulare is to have something it has been working for a long time, and that is a new and modern hotel. The project was launched by citizens for the purpose, but fell through, being just after the close of the war and the promoters found that it would be difficult to finance the project. Since, however, this was accomplished by private parties and now the foundation is in and work has started in earnest, and the building is to be erected to completion so that adequate accommodations can be provided for the many that will come to the stock pavilion on the fair grounds. This was the original intention when the fair grounds were provided, to conduct an annual stock sale, and other, and smaller sales throughout the year, but lack of proper facilities prevented the holding of such sales on the scale planned.

Now the new hotel is being built, and will be patterned after the architecture of the San Francisco hotel at San Francisco. The plan of the structure has also been to make Tulare the gateway to the Sequoia National Park, the city being on the main line of the Southern Pacific, and with proper hotel facilities this may be done.

The building will be of modern construction, four stories high, and will be divided into three parts with a central tower affording splendid light for all rooms. It will be equipped with modern furnishings, and will be capable of taking care of any large number which will visit the fair grounds on special occasions, and will become for Tulare what the El Capitan hotel is to Merced, as a stopping place for tourists in route to the summer playgrounds.

SIERRA VISTA TRACT OPENED

New Subdivision to Have City Improvements

The first unit of Sierra Vista, the new subdivision of the famous old Barton vineyard property, which is being offered by Billings & Meyerling, was opened for sale yesterday. According to an announcement by the firm yesterday, Billings & Meyerling plan to build homes in the subdivision aggregating $450,000 of 650 acres is to be divided into 480 lots. City improvements are being installed, including sidewalks and curbs, a portion of which has already been built.

The property adjoins Alta Vista, and is bounded by Tulare, Olive, Twelfth and Chestnut.

Sales open at 10 o'clock this morning. The office is at two blocks from the corner, on Barton avenue. According to a statement yesterday from the Billings & Meyerling firm, a reduction of 25 per cent will be made on the first twenty-five persons building homes.

According to the prospectus issued by the firm, Sierra Vista will contain seventeen streets, each one mile long, or thirty-four miles of road. The parking between sidewalks and curbs will be eleven feet in width, providing space for shrubbery and trees.

Modern improvements in the tract include electricity, city water, sidewalks, curbs, graded streets and shade trees.

New Apartments To Be Opened Soon

The new apartment house and store building at O and Stanislaus, owned by O. L. Everts and James P. Ryan, will be opened by the end of the month, according to the agents. It is planned to throw open the entire upper floor, which contains fourteen apartments, on that date. Many of the stores in the building have opened for business.

Among the tenants who have acquired leases for stores in the building are the following:

Louis Bernier, grocer; G. W. Chadwick, meat market; Frank P. Anderson, commercial photographer; Smith Hardware company; Court Confectionery; C. J. Heston, shoe; beauty parlors; Home Ranch Dairy, wholesale and retail.

Oil Company Offers Reward for Slayer of Turlock Manager

MODESTO, Sept. 17.—That the Standard Oil Company of California is determined to slay the slayer of Chester W. Turlock, who was shot to death, September 4, was made known today with the offering of a reward of $1000 for the arrest and conviction of the man or men implicated in the crime.

Unten had just left the service station of the company on the night of September 3 with his wife and another woman, when he was suddenly confronted by a man armed with a 32-caliber revolver, who, following a word, began shooting. One bullet lodged in Unten's heart and another struck him in the groin. Outside of a discarded jacket with initials corresponding to those fired from the gun and a pair of auto goggles in the pockets, no clues were left from the slayer.

New Record Made By Hume Cannery

TURLOCK, Sept. 16.—The Hume Cannery company, which has been operating through the fruit season, proposes to close down on Saturday after a record run. This week will see the end of the Phillip cling peaches and the cannery will take a well earned rest until the anticipated season of the arrival of another number.

This week the cannery is handling a hundred tons of peaches a day, the supply keeping up with remarkable constancy. The cannery is employing six hundred people, and the pay roll reaches $4,000 weekly.

The superintendent states that the cannery has had the greatest output of any cannery in the state and the records for this season create a new standard. There is a possibility of the cannery handling spinach if the demand from the eastern jobbers, but not otherwise.

Linsay Oranges Win High Honors At Sacramento Fair

LINDSAY, Sept. 15.—Lindsay oranges again won high honors in competition with those of all other growers in the state when a first award was given for Valencia at the Sacramento Fair recently. The display of fruit was furnished by the Lindsay Chamber of Commerce and was selected and packed under the direction of B. G. Ronke of the Hillside Packing company.

Great care was given to the selection of the fruit, several dozen boxes having been picked and carefully graded to get the best and most perfect fruit because of the lateness of the season for Valencia. The Valencia oranges were furnished by Mrs. E. B. Young. Praise is due Mr. Ronke for his careful attention to the details of packing which added much to the display.

The winning of this award together with the second prize on grapefruit and third on lemons added new laurels to Lindsay as a citrus producing section.

LINDSAY, Sept. 15.—Lindsay oranges again won high honors in competition with those of all other growers in the state when a first award was given for Valencia at the Sacramento Fair recently. The display of fruit was furnished by the Lindsay Chamber of Commerce and was selected and packed under the direction of B. G. Ronke of the Hillside Packing company.

Great care was given to the selection of the fruit, several dozen boxes having been picked and carefully graded to get the best and most perfect fruit because of the lateness of the season for Valencia. The Valencia oranges were furnished by Mrs. E. B. Young. Praise is due Mr. Ronke for his careful attention to the details of packing which added much to the display.

The winning of this award together with the second prize on grapefruit and third on lemons added new laurels to Lindsay as a citrus producing section.

New Record Made By Hume Cannery

TURLOCK, Sept. 16.—The Hume Cannery company, which has been operating through the fruit season, proposes to close down on Saturday after a record run. This week will see the end of the Phillip cling peaches and the cannery will take a well earned rest until the anticipated season of the arrival of another number.

This week the cannery is handling a hundred tons of peaches a day, the supply keeping up with remarkable constancy. The cannery is employing six hundred people, and the pay roll reaches $4,000 weekly.

The superintendent states that the cannery has had the greatest output of any cannery in the state and the records for this season create a new standard. There is a possibility of the cannery handling spinach if the demand from the eastern jobbers, but not otherwise.

GROWTH OF
CHICAGO SEENOldest Resident Tells Of Experiences

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—From a population of fifteen thousand to three million, Ferdinand W. Peck, Chicago's oldest resident native, has watched Chicago grow. He was born 73 years ago. His father before him could tell an even better story for he watched Chicago grow from a handful of frontiersmen, a bare forty, to the million and a half Chicago had in 1917.

While his father's life in Port Dearborn was more burrowing, Ferdinand Peck has had the more remarkable career. His father with thirty-nine children in 1830 populated the Indiana town where the new double deck Michigan avenue bridge now stands. He died two weeks following the great Chicago fire.

Ferdinand Peck opened his career in the public eye at the age of 17, when he rode in the carriage with Abraham Lincoln at his second inauguration. From that day to this Mr. Peck has been one of the most befriended and befriending patrons of the press this country holds. Few men his friends have held the number of public and quasi-public positions that have come to Mr. Peck.

Most important of all his accomplishments, Mr. Peck counts his work in organizing, financing and completing the Auditorium, which houses the Chicago Opera. This was done largely unaided, Mr. Peck said. He had President Cleveland, to the corner alone, and President Harrison to dedicate the finished building. All the officials of Canada and governors of 11 states attended the dedication.

Mr. Peck's latest public life is the Chicago Woman's board, of which he is honorary president and to which he devotes his time. The board is composed of 100 ladies and is twice the size, Mr. Peck says, of the next largest board in existence.

Fifty-four years ago Mr. Peck aided in founding the Chicago Press Club, and since then he has found five other of the city's most prominent clubs. For seven terms he was president of the Chicago Board of Education. He caused creation of the first Confederate monument north of the Mason and Dixon, and in 1880 took the first Illinois regiment of 100 men, his friends say in general, through the streets of all the prominent southern cities.

He was the United States consul, senior general of the World's Fair in 1893, headed the finance committee of the World's Fair in 1913, and when the fair went to St. Louis, his intervention with Speaker Cannon in Congress, his friends say in general, accounted as the determining factor in gaining St. Louis a five million dollar appropriation.

A declaration conferred on him by Emperor Wilhelm of Germany, and he has the distinction as the only civilian American to rank as Grand Officer of the Legion of Honour in France, the rank which was lately conferred on General Pershing.

Mexico Will Hold
Celebration Soon

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 17.—Ignacio Jan Padewski, former prime minister of Poland, will leave his ranch at Pismo, California, September 20 to be the guest of the Mexican government at the celebration of the centennial of the independence of Mexico, September 27, according to Eduardo Ruiz, chief general of Mexico. Senior Ruiz expressed the hope that the visit of Mr. Padewski would be instrumental in bringing about the recognition of Mexico by the United States. A celebration in San Francisco of the Mexican centennial is being planned for September 15 to 30, at which American citizens have been invited to join the Mexicans. A feature of the celebration will be the presentation of a statue, "The Fight Struggle" by the Mexican colony to the city government, September 27. The statue represents the dream of an American Indian vanquished by the new civilization. It is by Manuel Centurion, a Mexican sculptor.

Senior Ruiz said that Mexico had advanced greatly under the presi-

REVISION TO BE ASKED BY JAPAN

Propose International Law For Panama

TOKYO, Sept. 17.—If the present political situation in the Far East is revised at the Washington conference, then the United States will be asked to revise the Pacific should also be reconsidered. It is argued among Japanese publicists. This follows Japan's contention in its reply to the United States that questions regarding an accomplished fact should be avoided at the conference.

Professor Matsunaga, an authority on international law who was a delegate to the Hague conference, insists, for example, that the Panama canal should be placed under international control for the benefit of the world.

He declares that if the conference asks Japan to evacuate Siberia and to abandon Korea and Formosa, then it should also ask the United States to return most of the United States to the Indians and grant independence to Hawaii and the Philippines.

Great Britain, he added, should then make Canada and Australia completely free and return Hongkong to China.

Apprehensions of drastic revision of Japan's position in the Far East which would find renewed expression are believed to be the inspiration of comments.

The conference will place Japan on the "cloning board." It fears that the twenty-one demands on China will be annulled and that Japan will be forced to evacuate South Manchuria.

It attacks American annexation of Hawaii and the occupation of the Philippines, condemns British policies in India, South Africa and China and warns its millions of readers that the white race looks upon the world as its exclusive possession and regards colored people as brutes.

Japan, therefore, the Yoruoku holds, should take the offensive at the conference and give past acts of the "white nations" in whose footsteps Japan merely followed.

Delley of Oregon, and he hoped recognition by the United States would not long be delayed. Turnout and strike had been ended in Mexico, said Ruiz, and the country had entered upon a new era.

These and other points of interest about the bakery will be explained to you gladly when you find it convenient to pay us a visit.

The Tremendous demand for Kleen-Maid Bread throughout the San Joaquin Valley has compelled us to double our capacity

Every town in the San Joaquin Valley between Modesto and Delano is now supplied with Kleen-Maid Bread, fresh every morning.

Twelve trucks leave the bakery at 3 A. M., loaded with this appetizing product. Over 9,800,000 pounds of flour are required yearly to produce Kleen-Maid Bread, for which there has grown such a tremendous demand.

Six years ago the San Joaquin Baking Co. started in a small plant on the corner of P and San Benito streets. By adhering strictly to a policy of baking only the highest quality bread the demand for our product has increased to such an extent that now a plant covering two acres is necessary, with provisions allowed for increase later.

The machinery and ovens are of the most modern type, just as the ingredients are the best that can be obtained.

Here Is the Reason for the Tremendous Demand

There is one fundamental reason for the tremendous growth of the San Joaquin Bakery and the great demand for Kleen-Maid bread. That is the unfailing high quality of the product.

Every ingredient that enters into the making is the best quality possible to obtain—every process in the preparation is the work of skilled men. The machinery is the most modern.

Kleen-Maid bread is made to taste good, just as it is made to be good for your health—bread that is as wholesome as it is delicious, and delicious as it is wholesome.

Red Cross Does Valued Work Needy People Are Aided In Fresno Ex-Service Men Given Lift

By RUBY J. OLNEY.

"Why is the Red Cross still being kept up now that the war has been over these many months and another conflict is not anticipated?" is a marked question in the minds of many. But if we could go to the Red Cross headquarters in the city, we would find that the Red Cross is still very much needed. It is not only the needy people who are helped, but the ex-service men who are given a lift.

Take, for instance, the last six months and we will have what has been done by the organization in this city. A total of 1,578.77 was spent and 1,197 people were helped. We may ask ourselves why the Red Cross should do this and not the County Welfare. In the first place, the County Welfare is a department under the help of the State in cases of emergency. Then, though we are in comfortable circumstances, we may not realize the large amount of poverty in this city. There is a vast difference between the County Welfare and the Red Cross. The County Welfare takes care of the needy people, but the Red Cross takes care of the ex-service men.

First of all, the Red Cross makes an effort to help ex-service men and their families and, though these cases are not frequent as they were a couple of years ago, they yet remain plenty of instances where help must come from somewhere. Many cases of tuberculosis are even now developing among the men who were in the service. One instance now is the sympathy of the Red Cross workers. The father of the household is unable to work and the mother has all she can do to take care of the family. The Red Cross is a home where help must come from somewhere. The father of the household is unable to work and the mother has all she can do to take care of the family. The Red Cross is a home where help must come from somewhere.

Have ex-service men found themselves out of employment and because of all this have no money with which to buy shoes and other things which they need? The Red Cross is a home where help must come from somewhere. Many cases of tuberculosis are even now developing among the men who were in the service. Men who have had vocational training must have money with which to start in business. This is often a problem. The Red Cross is a home where help must come from somewhere. Services Are Held For
Orville Kilroy

PORTERVILLE, Sept. 17.—The funeral of Peter Orville Kilroy, son of P. W. Kilroy of Poplar, one of the county's heroes who made the supreme sacrifice during the World War, was held this morning from St. Anne's Catholic church. Father Skak officiated at the very impressive service, which was largely attended. Members of the local post of the American Legion acted as pall bearers and provided the firing squad that paid a last tribute to the brave soldier. The body was taken to the cemetery of the United States early after the outbreak of the great war in 1917. He served for many months in the famous 1st Division, the served with his organization on various fronts and through the engagements in which his company, the 1st, took part. He was killed in action on Oct. 2, just two days before the signing of the armistice.

The remains of the young soldier arrived at New York, August 25, and were taken to Porterville Thursday morning, accompanied by a soldier guard.

Yap Settlement

TOKYO, Sept. 17.—(By The Associated Press.)—The Asahi Shimbun prints today what is claimed to be an outline of the methods by which the problem of control over the island of Yap will be settled. These are:

1. The United States will go to the United States, the Yap-Shanghai cable to Japan, and the Yap-Menado cable to Holland.

2. Japan will recognize American freedom of communication on Yap.

3. In other words, the United States acquired extra-territoriality—controlling communications and the right to establish a wireless station free from Japanese censorship, control or restriction.

4. The United States refrains from the present from recognition of Japan's mandate over the islands north of the equator.

CIVIC CLUB OF FELLOWS PLANS SEASON

The Fellowship Civic-improvement club held an executive meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Alken, the president. It was decided to purchase a blackboard for the use of the club at their regular meetings, both social and business. Mrs. Lewis is to see about securing one from the school, as there will be some not needed in the new addition. At the first regular meeting of the club for the season the members are to give short talks on the places visited during their vacation and to tell of any interesting incident that transpired.

Those in charge of refreshments for the occasion are Mrs. Carr, Mrs. Barton, Mrs. Hopkins, and Mrs. Gaud. The hostesses for the afternoon are Mrs. DeLong, Mrs. King and Mrs. Tigner. The date is Thursday, September 22 at 5:30 p. m.

It was unanimously decided by those present at the board meeting of Mrs. Alken's on Monday to voice their objection to any "Patty" or "Buckle" picture being shown in the town of Fellows.

It was decided to hold a board meeting at the home of the president twice a month instead of three months as heretofore on the Monday afternoon preceding the regular meetings which were held the first and third Thursdays of the month.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Hodekin and two children, Hope and John Hodekin, returned home yesterday from a three months outing in Seattle and other cities. The family have taken the Herbert Gaud house near Fowler for the winter months.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Chaplin registered at the Hotel Fresno recently on their way to San Francisco from the southern part of the state.

Troop 18 Has Big Feed

BY MORTON JACOBS.
Last Friday night practically all of those enrolled in Troop 18, and Troop 14, turned out to a fine meeting and a big "Feed" given by the Scoutmaster of Troop 18.

Mr. Morris, the Scoutmaster, had planned to have many different kinds of eats, but it was impossible to get them from the person he had planned with at that date, so the Troop was delighted with the ice cream and watermelon that was served. However, Mr. Morris plans to have the regular "Feed" that he had planned on some time in the near future.

The Assistant Scoutmaster of Troop 14 also visited the meeting last night with the Troop. He told the Troop of the kind of work that his boys were doing.

Several members of the troop are planning to put exhibits in the fair.

Mrs. Kilton Pike, who was Miss Edna Patricia Young before her marriage here yesterday. They will reside in Modesto.

Early fall brings with it unlimited beauties and a trip into the hills during this season always proves delightful. Sunday a local party motored up above Knight's Ferry to white away the glorious hours of out-of-doors. There was swimming and a picnic luncheon to occupy the hours of enjoyment.

The pleasure seekers were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wherry, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Turner, and Mrs. J. W. Wherry.

The first of a series of bridge parties which will extend over the winter months was begun Saturday in the informal Saturday Club meeting, who will be guests of Mrs. Arthur Wiscarver in her home. Progressive bridge will be favored by this club again this season. After the game the players will visit for an hour over the tea cups.

The club members for this season are the same as last year which includes: Mesdames Robert McDuffie, Raymond Whitley, E. E. Conway, William Dulin, George Mase, Arthur Wiscarver, Walter Dolano, and D. C. Hartley.

Theft of Raisins Reported at Visalia

VISALIA, Sept. 17.—The first report to the sheriff's office of raisin thefts in Tulare county came to the attention of Sheriff Smith this morning when the caretaker of the Byer's ranch, near Klink, announced the loss of seventy-eight trays from the drying yard. CULTURAL ARTS WORK STARTED

Cost of New Building To Be $20,000

Work started last week on the construction of the School of Cultural Arts building at 1844-47 J street, which is being erected by E. Allen White, at a cost of $20,000. The building was designed by Cones & Traver, and the contract for its erection was let to Short & Meads.

According to the architect's plan, the building will be of frame and stucco construction, designed along semi-Italian lines, with an attractive loggia facing on J street, and a large roof garden above. The structure is one story, with a mezzanine floor. It occupies a ground space of 50 by 135 feet.

The first floor will contain a large dance hall, with maple floor, 18 by 36 feet. This floor will contain, in the front portion of the building, a smaller studio for children and musical classes.

The mezzanine will overlook the dance floor, and will open on to the roof garden. The check room, rest rooms, and office will open onto this balcony. Arrangements have been provided for a kitchen, so that dinner dances and banquets can be given.

ZION OVERSEER CLAIMS GOD PROVES WORLD IS NOT ROUND

Declares He is Ready to Refute Modern Astronomy as to Position of Sun, Moon and to Shape of Earth.

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—The story of without looks and with words are "The Village that Voted the Earth is Flat" has an earnest adherent in Wilbur Clair Voliva, overseer of Zion, the religious community that Alexander Dowse founded at Zion City, a little to the north of Chicago.

Declaring that there is no proof whatever of the sphericity of the earth or that the earth has any motion, Overseer Voliva says he is prepared to refute modern astronomy scientifically as well as from the standpoint of the Bible.

Here are some of the points he advances:

"All standing water is level. Let any one disprove it if he can. They cannot disprove it. This is conclusive evidence that the old Ptolemaic-Copernican system of the sphericity of the earth is false."

"A man stood at Kingston, Jamaica, and saw the lighthouse at Havana Harbor, eighty-two miles distant, which is another conclusive proof that the sphericity of the earth is a fallacy."

"The midnight sun has been seen hundreds of times, but it would be absolutely impossible to see it on a sphere. You would have to look through hundreds of miles of earth and rock."

"There is a railroad in South America two thousand miles long which is almost perfectly level. The Blue Canal is a hundred miles long."

"If God Almighty created the earth and then created a light to light it up and out it ninety-two million miles distant, not only as a matter of time, but as a matter of space, it would be impossible for a light to travel that distance in the time it takes the sun to revolve around the earth."

"They tell you that the sun is ninety-two million miles away. I laugh at that, not only as a matter of time, but also as a statement of God Almighty's Word."

"If God Almighty created the earth and then created a light to light it up and out it ninety-two million miles distant, not only as a matter of time, but as a matter of space, it would be impossible for a light to travel that distance in the time it takes the sun to revolve around the earth."

A Message From Our Buyer:

With excusable enthusiasm and with the full satisfaction of success through trying times—our Mr. T. H. Conners, (whose buying experience covers the largest Fashion Centers of the East) issues the following significant announcement:—

"The Prices covering the Merchandise in our Ready-to-Wear Section, averages 40% lower than the same garments could possibly have been sold for a year ago, and it is my honest opinion these prices are stable and represent the new Era of Normalcy—In other words 'the limit' is here."

Radin and Kamp Say to the People of Fresno County --- The time has arrived when every woman CAN and WILL afford to be well dressed. Do not hold back in anticipation of any further lowering of prices. Prices will not be lower --- Be thoroughly assured of that fact. Buy now.

Asking ourselves the question:—

"Why is our Business equal to, and in many cases better than last year?" We Will Answer:—

Because We Are Not Afraid to Buy, and Because Our Confidence Is Fully Established

And as a true and practical demonstration of this fact, we ask you to come to our store and See and Examine and Approve of the largest, finest in Quality—Most Comprehensive Stock of Women's, Misses' and Junior's Ready-to-Wear Garments, ever seen before in this city.

ANOTHER MIX THRILLER

LIBERTY FEATURE TODAY

"The Night Horseman," the most thrilling Tom Mix special production ever produced, is shown at the Liberty Theatre today for three days only in one of the best programs Manager George Sharp has obtained in months. The second feature stars today's little Constance Binney, whose sweet, winsome face has charmed the American public more and more each week. The title of the picture is "Room and Board" and is one of those peculiarly touching "American life" romances that every romantic American loves to see.

In the role of Whittling Jack, which he portrayed in "The Untamed," Tom Mix is again that wild, untamed man whose love of the wild makes him forget love and friends to follow the flight of the wild geese, north in spring and south in autumn.

Mix does some wonderful riding again as usual, only he has a brand new set of thrills, more exciting and daring than ever. A horse, a dog, a man and the girl are the big stars that make this picture a real blooded sensation. In the cast Leslie May, May Hope, Harry Landale, Arthur French, Joseph Bennett and Sam Jordan.

"Room and Board" is the most elaborate and expensive ever produced by Redart for Miss Binney. She is cast in the role of a spirited little Irish heroine, a noblewoman, a type particularly well suited to her personality.

The cast surrounding Miss Binney includes Tom Curran, Malcolm Bradley, Ted Proity, Blanche Craig and Ellen Cassidy.

The story concerns the fortunes of an Irish noblewoman whose father, a gentle spendthrift, has always followed a policy of putting off the debts and worries of today until some vague tomorrow. The Earl is killed in the hunting field and Lady Norcott puts up a gallant fight against debts and the gallant young American and the plucky Irish miss fall in love and a lovely romance follows. It is one of the most delightful stories ever related. The regular additional Liberty features, including a Mack Sennett comedy, whose stars are to be shown also.

REMARKABLE FARNUM

PICTURE IS AT STRAND

What more could be desired than a new William Farnum picture, based on a Saturday Evening Post story, directed by the famous Frank Lloyd and including a cast of such stable stars as Jewel Carmen, A. J. West, Victor, Marc Robinson, and G. Raymond Nye. Such a picture, "When a Man Sees Red," is coming to the Strand starting today for three days only.

"When a Man Sees Red" is a film play with a red blooded star in a stirring drama, that deals with the hatred, love and vengeance of the South Sea Isles. The National Board of Censorship had this to say of the picture: "Entertainment value, excellent; dramatic interest, of story, excellent; character, good; acting, excellent; moral effect, good; photography, excellent; technique, distinctive; scenic setting, good."

This story is one that deals with the most rotten how to find his better dead from a man's brutality.

and his mother's following death from grief. The villain is felled in a terrific battle. A visit to the Barbary Coast takes him his opportunity for vengeance, the other man escaping from his room on board a boat. A shipwreck casts the villain aboard a lonely, south sea island and his pursuer finally traces him. There the reckoning is had. With his purpose completed, the man returns to San Francisco, and with the love of the girl who has been watching him and praying for him through the struggle.

"Luring Lips," another Edith Roberts special production, is the story of a beautiful woman's wits and wiles won back the man she loved and solved a great intrigue. Directed by King Baggot, it is finished in its technique.

This is the tale of Adèle Martin and her husband on their honeymoon. Their life is a poem of happiness until the law snatches the husband and sends him to prison when a shuffling of $2,000 is discovered at the bank where he is employed. Justice is misapplied through circumstantial evidence.

A woman's wiles, through allowing the man who suspects of being guilty to make love to her during her husband's incarceration, finally brings out the truth and the money which is found in the other man's possession. The husband cleared, the pair went their way through life happily.

Included in the cast besides Miss Roberts are Darrell Foss, Ramsey Wallace and Carleton King.

The eleven episode of "The Son of Tarzan" will be shown as usual with the regular program.

THE FOUR HORSEMEN AT WHITE ON SEPTEMBER 25

For the first time, the production of "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," made for Metro, is announced by the White Theatre. This is a picture of the greatest significance in the history of the motion picture industry. It is a picture that has been made in New York, Chicago, Boston, Pittsburgh, Detroit and Los Angeles as marking a new epoch in the development of motion pictures. At its New York opening people paid $10 a seat. Critics said the picture had definitely established the picture industry as capable of rivaling the stage at its best, but in surpassing it in its grip upon the emotions.

"The Four Horsemen" is the supreme expression of the great war. Certainly no novel has stirred the universal appeal created by the biggest masterpiece. The book, now in its one hundred and sixty-sixth edition, has been read throughout the world. The monumental task of transferring it to the screen was accomplished by June Mathis, who made a scenario that from all accounts has preserved the force of the original and in many instances heightened it. But it is the director, Rex Ingham, who has apparently achieved the most sensational success. He is reported to have set a new mark in artistry of pictorialization.

Readers of the novel will recall that the story opens on the Argentine ranch of old Madrugada, whose territories are as extensive as those of the great Indian empires of feudal times. And Madrugada rules with feudal power. A rioting, roistering despot, he is filled with Castilian pride of family and rears for a male child to carry on his traditions. His two daughters have married ranch employees—one French and the other German. Madrugada's

Public Cares For Big Family Needs

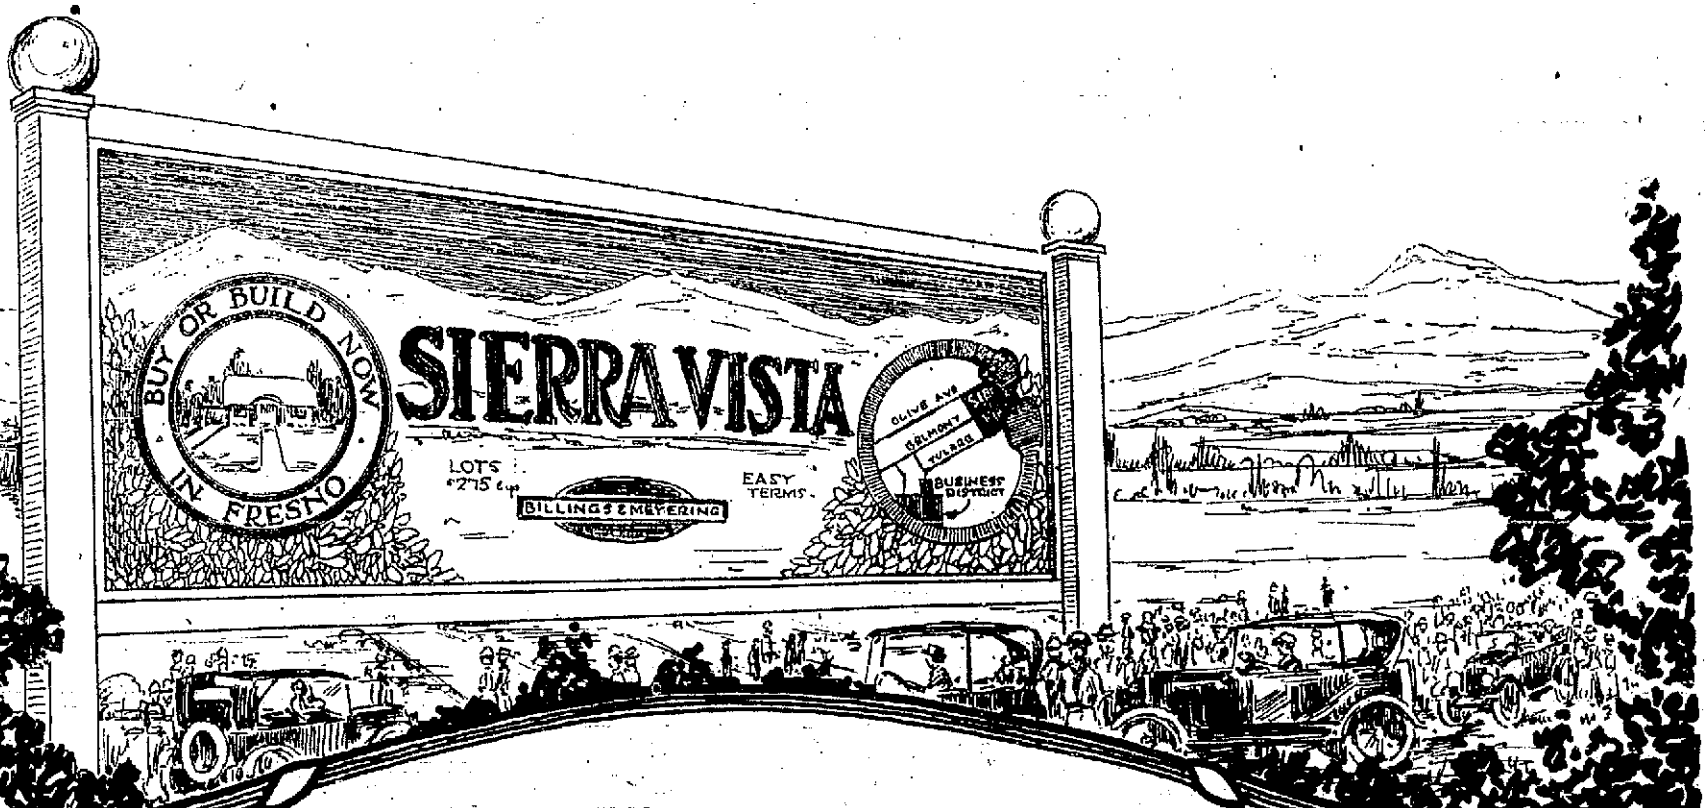

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 15.—A home constructed of materials donated by builders' supply men on a lot purchased with contributions from real estate dealers, erected by union workmen free of cost and furnished by furniture dealers with no hope of reward, has been given Mrs. Frank O'Connor and her nine children. Frank O'Connor, the breadwinner of the family, was killed in a fall several months ago. When the family left was on the verge of being evicted, the New Orleans firm heard about their plight. The public response was immediate.

SIERRA VISTA

TODAY IS THE DAY TO BUY IN SIERRA VISTA

The first unit of this newest and largest subdivision, which will be Fresno's finest home district, goes on the market today. People will begin to throng early to the tract, for at the low opening prices, backed by a company that will make it grow, investors in Sierra Vista are bound to make money.

Home builders and investors are buying today in Sierra Vista because it is assured that this will become a square mile of homes, because Billings & Meyering properties have always built up and greatly increased in value, because Billings & Meyering have already started to construct homes in Sierra Vista and the property will enhance in value from the very beginning.

The Logical Place for Home Builders

Sierra Vista is Fresno's greatest addition—a square mile adjoining Alta Vista on the northeast. It is situated on high ground, with an unobstructed and inspiring view of the noble Sierras in the background. In the first unit of 480 lots, which goes on the market today, all city conveniences will be installed.

A spirit of business-like bustle pervades the property—streets are being graded, curbs and sidewalks put in, and the construction of homes started. Sierra Vista has begun to develop into an integral and important part of Fresno even before a lot has been sold.

Big Profits Will Be Made

Even greater profits will be made in Sierra Vista than have been made in other Billings & Meyering subdivisions, because of the low opening prices and extensive improvements that will be carried out. Bear in mind the Zapp's Park Sale, when every lot was sold within 2½ hours. The location and value of Sierra Vista lots point to a similar demand, so come early that you may obtain your choice location in this new home district.

What Sierra Vista Will Have

Street Car Service	Building Restriction
Convenient Schools	Racial Restriction
Graded Streets	Electricity
Sidewalks and Curbs	Gas
Shade Trees	City Water
80-Acre Public Park

TODAY Will Increase The Value of Sierra Vista

Hundreds of people are going to Sierra Vista this morning to buy lots. Demand creates value. Many people are buying to make money, and it is a certainty that TOMORROW lots will be worth more in Sierra Vista.

Will you be one of those to buy TODAY at the low opening price? Then do not wait—this morning—as early as you can get there—be on the ground to select your lots.

How to Get There

Go out Tulare to First Street, turn right to Kerckhoff, go east through Alta Vista to end of Kerckhoff, turn to left on 12th street; or take Recreation Park car out Huntington Blvd. to County Hospital—walk two blocks north on Barton to Sierra Vista.

FARMERS PLAN

Also to Purchase Many Motorcycles

Over the broad expanse of 6,445,958 American farm good crops are being harvested and marketed. Money is coming into sweet-stained pocket books. But will it be spent? And if it is, what will it go to buy? Many a manufacturer and merchant would sleep better tonight if he knew the answer to these questions. It is the hope of at least a partial answer in the story of what Farmer Smith is going to do with his harvest money is presented.

The amount of $12,500 motor vehicle registrations during the last fiscal year, and the collection of $1,171 in license fees, all of which, some the generous support for highways—until analyzed. From the total of 10 per cent, or $12,474, must be deducted for administration, after which the amount is divided, half going to the counties, distributed on a basis of registration. And the other half, or $2,000, goes to the State Highway Commission for maintenance and improvement of state highways.

California has incorporated in its state system of 5,500 miles of which over 3,200 miles are constructed and under construction. These roads must be taken care of with the state's portion of motor vehicle funds. When this distribution is compared with other states, the inadequacy of California's provision for maintenance is better understood.

PEACE, WORK NEW MOTTO

Says People Are Tired
Of War

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Sept. 17.—King Boris, of Bulgaria, declares that "peace and work" is the motto of the future reign and a promise of the future prosperity of this country.

"Neighboring peoples are storm-tossed," he said, to the Associated Press. "Chaos of revolution and discontent sound distinctly across our frontiers and reach us in our wheat fields where our peasants, absorbed in their tasks turn deaf ear to preaching of war and adventure. They are tired of war. I have seen war myself and learned to hate it."

"We ask for a small army but it is only to protect the country from the disorders which outsiders are seeking to introduce. With such brilliant prospects ahead of Balkan pacification and development it is a mystery to us how people can say they do abroad, that we are at odds with our neighbors, are about to attack Greece or are organizing bands to provoke strife beyond our borders."

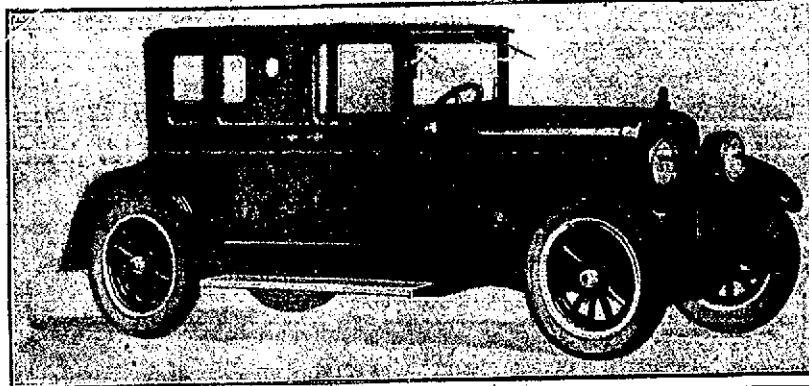

King Boris, who speaks English fluently, has made a deep study of American and American conditions. He heartily wishes that the city of New York intended to send him a work dealing with the birds and flowers of New York State. His majesty is an enthusiastic naturalist and has an extensive knowledge of American fauna and flora. In the royal parks and greenhouses he has gathered an extensive collection of American plants and flowers.

"It appears to me that the American nation is taking a growing interest in Balkan questions since the war, not only from an economic point of view, on account of the large American enterprises here but from a political one too," continued the young monarch. "That is an inestimable blessing both for the Balkans themselves and for the Near East as a whole. The interest taken by the great transatlantic Republic, aloof from European and Oriental disputes and intrigues, is of great importance for peace in the Balkans. The humane conduct of America, in the Thracian question aroused the liveliest gratitude in the hearts of our people."

"The Bulgarian parliament felt it a privilege to make a gift of one of the best sites near Sofia, for the creation of an American college."

"Until now neither I nor my people have had an adequate opportunity for expressing their feelings of gratitude to the great American nation."

The new Lafayette on display at the salesroom of Pacific Nash Motors Company, will also be one of the features at the coming Show, at the Fresno District Fair.

REGULATION NOMENCLATURE FOR AIRMEN ARE ARRANGED

Would Substitute "Aircraft" for "Airship" When Speaking of Machines That Traverse the Air

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—Standard aeronautical terms, devised and compiled by the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, have been officially prescribed for use in the Army and Navy. Hereafter, the new order states, the officers of the two air services will use the regulation nomenclature.

For sometime, aerial experts point out, laymen have been calling anything that traverses the air an "airship," whereas the word "aircraft" should be employed. They say, that all balloons, rigid and non-rigid airships, or lighter-than-air craft, are constantly being termed "airships," a slang word now obsolete, but originally used to designate a non-rigid airship, driven by an engine installed in an airplane fuselage along beneath the gas bag. The word "hydroplane," has often been misused in referring to a seaplane; "hydroplane" designates a sea sled, which planes on the surface of the water but does not take the air. An airplane has been called an "aero," which, it is explained, is as wrong as calling a boat a "water." The words "aeroplane," "hydro-aeroplane," and "dirigible," have been done away with and "airplane," "seaplane" and "airship" have taken their places.

According to the recent published report of the National Advisory Committee, "aircraft" constitutes any form of craft designed to navigate the air and is divided into three classes: "aerostats," "aeroplanes," and "airships." "Aerostats" comprise lighter-than-air craft, embodying a container filled with a gas lighter than air, such as hydrogen, and sustained by its buoyancy; they include "dirigibles" and "balloons."

The word "airplane" is now used to designate craft heavier than air, obtaining their support from the action of the air on the wings, and driven through the air by screw propellers. "Tractors" are airplanes having their propellers in front;

"pushers," having them in the rear. Usually airplanes are equipped for land work with wheeled landing gear, but when fitted for alighting on water with a boat or pontoons, the term "seaplane" is used.

"Airships," as the craft formerly known as lighter-than-air are now called, are divided into three types: "rigid," whose form is maintained by a metallic frame within the gas bag or envelope; "non-rigid," whose envelope is kept taught by the pressure of the contained gas, and "semi-rigid," maintained by a rigid or jointed keel and also by gas pressure. These three types are all propelled by gas engines located in a hull or car, or in individual engine houses suspended below the supporting envelope, and controlled by means of rudders and fins. "Balloons," the second division of the aerostatic class, have no power plants for means controlling their horizontal flight. They include "free," or "unmoored," balloons, which are inflated by the aid of a siphon or other device, and "tethered," or "moored," balloons, which are inflated by a pump or other device, and are secured by a cable to the earth. "Barrage," captive balloons used in forming an aerial barrier against an enemy's attack, "kite," elongated captive balloons such as the "aerostat observation balloon," which has a tail fin to keep it headed into the wind, "morse," a small, heavily fabric-covered balloon used for signaling, and "aerostat," a balloon employed in securing meteorological data.

The heavier-than-air types of aircraft now officially termed "airplanes," are divided into several classes according to the number of planes or wings, which are usually superimposed, namely: monoplane, biplane, triplane and multiplane. There is also the Langley-type of airplane, which is still called the "Langley" from the arrangement of its double set of wings on approximately the same level.

"Scaplanes," airplanes designed to rise from or light on the water, are classified in two groups: "boat scaplanes," having a central hull not unlike a boat, and "float scaplanes," whose landing gear consists of one or more floats or pontoons.

Among the new and often misnamed terms are the following: "Aeronaught"—The pilot of an aerostatic (airship or balloon).

"Airdrome"—A landing field equipped with hangars and shops.

"Aviator"—The operator or pilot of heavier-than-air craft, such as airplanes and seaplanes.

"Bank"—To incline a plane laterally in turning to prevent stalling.

"Climb"—Maximum height to which an airplane or airship can climb.

"Fuselage"—Body of an airplane, including engine and passenger seats.

"Glider"—An airplane without a power plant.

"Helicopter"—An aircraft deriving its support not from wings but the vertical thrust of propellers.

"Hull"—Enclosure for passengers or engine, but unlike the fuselage it has no tail unit.

"Ornithopter"—An aircraft deriving its support and power from flapping wings.

"Pancake"—To land by an airplane by leveling off higher from the ground than normal, causing it to stall and descend nearly vertically.

"Side slipping"—Sliding on a bank, toward the ground.

"Skids"—Runners used with landing gear, also on lower wing tips, as a protection.

"Sliding"—Sliding sideways away from the ground on a bank; opposite to slipping.

"Soar"—To fly on a level without power.

"Spin"—An aerial maneuver in which the airplane descends nearly vertically while turning rapidly in the form of a helix or "workover."

"Taxi"—To run an airplane over the ground or a seaplane over the water under its own power, without taking the air.

"Zoom"—To climb rapidly at a very steep angle.

MUMMIES ARE WORTH LITTLE

Pharaoh's Daughter Is Unknown to History

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—Mummies may not be what they seem. For instance, the supposed mummies right hand of the Pharaoh's daughter who rescued Moses from the bulrushes has recently been found to be an Illinois college. Now comes word from the Oriental Institute at the University of Chicago that the name of this particular daughter of the Pharaoh is unknown to history. "The Egyptians did not consider her act important enough to record," said Dr. T. Gaster, Assistant Secretary of the Institute, "and the Hebrew records are not sufficient to identify her. There is no mention even as to which Pharaoh was the Pharaoh of the oppression." The donor of the mummy hand, a woman 40 years old, who gave her prize to Bradley Polytechnic Institute at Peoria, Ill., in the firm conviction that it was indeed one that had fended the great Nile's lawgiver.

"When the exhibitors got to Chicago they went broke," related Dr. P. C. Cole, assistant curator of the department of anthropology at the Field Museum of Natural History.

The high-power long-life battery

Luthy patented insulation assures higher voltage & never wears out

A fact! A Luthy battery should start and light your car with a powerful current for at least two years without frequent trips to a battery station for recharging or repairs.

Luthy separators of patented "Luthite" are acid-resisting; they cannot rot like wood or rubber-compound separators and cause short circuits. Thus 80 per cent of all battery troubles are overcome.

Nearly 1,700 hooded perforations in each Luthy separator allow free paths for the solution and current, thus keeping the battery cool and assuring a quicker charge and a more powerful discharge through the entire life of the battery.

Because of their merits, Luthy batteries are guaranteed in writing—"Two years service or a new battery without cost." There is a "Luthy" for each type of car.

We repair and give service on all makes of batteries.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Stocks were firm at the opening of today's session, but became heavy and irregular after the first hour, closing with irregular losses in leading stocks.

Foreign and domestic oils were first to decline, Mexican and Pan American Petroleum, General Asphalt, Houston Petroleum and others, with prices ranging down to 20 points. Specialties also manifested lower tendencies, food products and chemicals, with moderate declines in sugar.

Coppers were one to 10 points higher at the start, but declined to 10 points below. Recent favorites in the industrial division, such as Inland Aluminum and United States Steel, with moderate gains in shoes. Sales 235,000 shares.

The feature of the clearing house was a heavy increase in actual bids and discounts amounting to $7,132,000. This is the first time since the first of the month.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Evaporated apples nominal. Prunes good demand. Apricots and peaches steady. Raisins unsettled.

Wheat-buyers were timid, and wheat futures were down 1/2 cent.

One expert pointed out that North America on Sept. 17 had more than three hundred thousand bushels of grain in the hands of the government, and that it would take several months of top speed work to handle it, provided the foreign demand for it.

Corn ranged with wheat and approached the low prices of last week. Corn was in the hands of the trade being light, and moved in the same track with corn.

For the packers was the chief factor in the advance, in provisions.

A New Cadillac and a New and Glorious Zest in Motoring

The new Cadillac Type 61 carries with it, of course, all of the positive assurance of sound, enduring value which has always been associated with the very name Cadillac.

Needless to say, there is all of the old reliability, responsibility, and regularity of performance—more pronounced than ever because in the Cadillac plant the passage of time is a continuous process of improvement.

But in addition to these hidden 'traits of character' which have made it the world's standard of motoring efficiency—the Type 61 Eight Cylinder Cadillac brings you other positive and quickly recognizable qualities which immensely enhance ease and enjoyment.

Within a few minutes from the time you have taken the wheel you will discern a more pronounced quality of resilient roadability than the Cadillac has ever developed before.

In other words, it is our judgment, that this Type 61 accomplishes the greatest advance yet recorded in overcoming road-discomfort and insuring riding ease.

Largely by way of simple but fundamentally sound changes, such as lowering the center of gravity without decreasing road clearance, smoothness of travel has been surprisingly improved.

Again, a recently adopted and equally simple improvement in carburetor practice has bettered Cadillac acceleration so that its proverbial swift surge of power is even more immediately brought into action and mileage per gallon of gasoline increased.

The new Cadillac gets away grandly, and communicates both to the one at the wheel and those in the tonneau, a sense of pent-up reserve power that is delightful.

The same simple changes that have given it a greater degree of road resilience have brought with them much greater beauty than before.

The Type 61 is a delight to the eye not merely at the first admiring glance, but in the wealth of attractive details which a closer inspection reveals.

Experienced motorists will delight in the artistic and convenient arrangement of the instrument board, the windshield and ventilator improvements, the restful simplicity and grace of the new steering wheel and controls, the convenient inspection lamp, and other refinements of a most pleasing character.

Incidentally, Cadillac coach work has improved upon itself so that the new car comes to you not only with greater charm of general design but a far more impressive and beautiful finish.

These latter are the lesser satisfactions—the real delight will come in the revelation of greater riding ease and roadability, and swifter acceleration.

A delightful experience is in store for Cadillac owners and non-owners alike.

MALE AUTOCRACY PASSING FROM MINISTRY ACCORDING TO CONFERENCE PREACHER

Obtains License For Women To Preach at Methodist Episcopal General Conference After Bitter Struggle

CHICAGO, Sept. 16.—Male autocracy that once ruled in every part of the ministry is passing from the hands of the International Association of Women Preachers, told its annual convention here tonight.

Miss Southard, president of the association, declared that the struggle in the Methodist Episcopal general conference last year that obtained license for women to preach, her husband is in the field, Kan. Women preachers of a number of churches, for the association is non-denominational, heard her address.

"Our good friends in this land who oppose women's admission to the ministry seem to be generally unconscious of the fact that the spiritual descendants of those who once held women as chattels, who later sent them to their forced labor in the mines, and refused them equal wages for equal work, despite the fact that thousands of them were the fathers of the nation," Miss Southard said. "She then reviewed arguments against women preaching."

"The time was when an appeal to scripture settled the whole thing, men doing the interpreting," she said. "We have gone far from that now, for every woman's voice heard in Christian Endeavor, Epworth League or Sunday School is a direct violation of the keeping silence in the church, while if women do not teach both public schools and Sunday schools would suffer considerable loss."

"Another once overwhelming argument was that women were not mentally capable of presenting the weighty themes that must be dealt with in the pulpit. But since we have had a single generation of educated women we hear little more of that."

"It was once seriously claimed that woman was unequal physically to the strain of pastoral work—and that in the day when women had from 12 to 15 children and did all the work for them. We know of one woman who in Rocky Mountain covered a circuit of 10 miles and developed several churches, which I heard her district superintendent declare, 'were now able to support a man as pastor.'"

"One still hears occasionally that the ordination of women will foment the church. But that is impossible, for a man-monopoly of the pulpit has already accomplished it."

"Many of the arguments once used against women's preaching have had to be abandoned. But the opponents still cling to one, the old argument of 'woman's sphere.' If necessarily many women are not mothers and must seek other vocations, while many thousands of mothers are forced into the industrial world to support themselves and their children. Indeed, how many of those who remain at home give about nine-tenths of their time to industry and one-tenth of their time to children. A woman preacher would have much more time for children than many housewives."

"It has not been proved that preaching is in any way inimical to motherhood. I know a number of preaching mothers and I will put their children up against any of the same number that any group of families desire to bring forward."

"Woman will bring no new Gospel, just the woman's vision of the old yet ever new Gospel. And there will be no rivalry between her and her brother, but as in other fields, so in this, each will reinforce and strengthen the other. For the man's mind and the woman's mind are ever complementary and only the blended wisdom of the two can give wholeness and symmetry, whether in home or state or church."

BANKERS WILL MEET IN L. A.

Lack of Co-operation Is Stressed

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 17.—Local problems facing every section of the country will be taken up and discussed as banking upon general business conditions at the American Bankers Association convention in Los Angeles Oct. 3 to 7 next, according to an outline of the convention program issued by the association publicity committee.

"Although every business man," reads the outline, "recognizes that the United States can never return to its former commercial isolation, as regards world trade, few realize that it is our international isolation which is doing more than any one factor to delay the return to normal business conditions."

"In a recent address before a representative group of bankers in New York, it was brought out that the lack of co-operation between business men, bankers and manufacturers in various sections of the country has led to the creation of local depression which are entirely unnecessary and could be obliterated by a broad policy of international co-operation. What was meant was, that each district treated its problems as purely local, whereas, as a matter of fact, they were simply phases of national problems, and should be treated nationally.

"No body of men are in a better position from which to attack these problems, than the bankers of the country. That they realize their responsibility is evidenced by the scope of the program to come before the Bankers' Association to be held in Los Angeles Oct. 3 to 7 next."

"This program contemplates the presentation to the convention of local problems facing each section of the country. The bankers, having their fingers on the industrial pulse of the country are in a position to present these purely local problems in their entirety."

"With such concrete data before the convention the bankers will have the opportunity of aggregating problems of a widely local nature from those which are merely a part of general national conditions. The conclusions to be reached at this convention are being looked forward to by business men throughout the country. It is doubtful if ever before a body of men had so fine an opportunity to accomplish such far-reaching results as this gathering of American bankers. Not only have they the opportunity of doing much toward stabilizing conditions in the United States, but such a result will have its effect on trade conditions throughout the world."

SOCIALIST BODY MAY BE SPLIT

Section of Party May Support Government

ROME, Sept. 15.—The Italian Socialist party is again threatened with a split, according to Depressio, editor of the Socialist organ, Avanti, who for seven years carried on active socialist propaganda in America. The split now impending, he says, is between those who are forever opposed to the government and those who are in the present situation wish to align themselves with it.

"The right wing of the Socialist party," he says, "adherents every day," said Deputy Vassera, to the Associated Press correspondent. "We are of that wing, think the time has come to collaborate with the government in the work of reconstruction. According to the decisions of the last Socialist convention, the party is allowed to participate in the government, though there is now opportunity for it and it would advance the interests of the working class."

"If this wing of the Socialist party does not want to participate in the government, we who believe in collaborating with the government will leave it and form a new party of our own."

"I am sure that a majority of the Socialist deputies are in favor of joining hands with the Bonomi government. Large numbers of official Socialists are now turning aside. Our convention meets next October in Rome. The fight between left and right will be fought there and you will probably see two parties formed out of the present Italian Socialist party."

"We have at present 122 Socialist deputies in the House of Deputies. Between 30 and 40 of these, in my opinion, want to support the Bonomi cabinet but are prevented by the mandates of the last Socialist convention and by Socialist policy generally."

TO OPEN FIRST WIRELESS POST

Will Complete Station In Three Months

LONDON, Sept. 15.—Postmaster General Kellaway has just opened at Leaford, Oxfordshire, the first station in the Imperial wireless chain which, when completed, will link up almost every part of the British empire.

The Leaford station, which has been designed entirely by the post office, will communicate with the corresponding station at Abu Zabal, near Cairo. This station is expected to be completed in three months. It will also be used for communication with West Africa and for broadcasting news to India.

Leaford and Abu Zabal will form the first pair of a series of four stations, the third being in East Africa and the fourth in South America.

"The first message sent from the station, as part of the opening ceremony, was a message of greetings to all British wireless stations within range. That in British stations expressed the wish that the station would 'keep in touch with the world which binds together the four parts of the empire.' That the other stations concluded with the wish that 'the development of wireless communication will help to knit closer the bonds of unity which bind the British empire to all other states.'"

Within half an hour replies were received from Malta, Paris, Christiania, Rome, Prague, Denmark, Budapest, Rome and Berlin.

Mr. Kellaway said in an address that at the Imperial conference great interest was taken by Prime Minister Lloyd George in the possibilities of wireless telephony. If these possibilities could be realized, they might yet have Premier Hughes in Melbourne talking to Mr. Lloyd George in Downing street.

"It sounds like fair play," said Mr. Kellaway enthusiastically. "It will make the world a great family in a sense that they have never been before."
